BRITISH LABOR REGIME CLOSE TO A DEFEAT

GASOLINE BAN WINS OUT BY ONLY 30 VOTES

London, Oct. 30 (AP)—Britain's Labor government averted defeat by less than 30 votes on two occasions in the House of Commons today—the narrowest margins it has had since the party came to power in August, 1945.

By a count of 184 to 160, the Labor majority approved a hotly argued motion to end debate on a controversial government proposal to abolish the slim basic gasoline ration now alloted the British motorists. The Conservative opposition greeted the vote with shouts of "gag" and "resign, resign."

A few moments later the House defeated, 187 to 160, an opposition motion to annual the government order wiping out the basic gasoline ration.

Millions Protest

These votes followed by only a few hours Winston Churchill's fourth unsuccessful effort to throw the Labor party out of office by adverse parliamentary ballot. The House defeated his attempt last night, 384 to 201. His previous attempts failed, 381 to 197 in 1945; 374 to 198 last April; and 251 to 148 last August.

The debate on the gasoline issue, on which an adverse vote might have put the government in a position where it would have been forced to resign, developed a few hours after messengers carried into the House of Commons a petition bearing more than 1,000,000 signatures protesting against abolition of the gasoline ration.

Prime Minister Attlee assured the House his government had every intention of carrying out its program of industrial nationalization and loosed a scathing attack on Churchill's demand Tuesday that Britain return to a system of free enterprise along American lines.

Disaster Seen In U. S.

Laborite Sidney Silverman criticized Churchill for praising the lifting of price controls in the United States.

"Unless these controls are reimposed in time, America is riding for the biggest and most sen-

Sentence Suspended For Dictograph Spy, Disappointed Lover

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 30 (AP)—Karl P. Hartman, 30, of Hazardville, Conn., drew a three months' suspended sentence yesterday for eaves-dropping by installing a dictograph in the bedroom of a young woman with whom he had been friendly and who married another man.

Hartman was accused of rigging the dictograph in the couple's bedroom so he could listen to their conversation through the loudspeaker of his automobile upon their return from their honeymoon.

Hartman, who had previously pleaded innocent after 30 days' observation at a state hospital during which he was declared sane, appeared at a private hearing yesterday before Judge William J. Granfield.

Clerk of courts Edward T. Collins said the war veteran husband of the young woman was "inclined to be lenient" toward Hartman, also a veteran.

Gasoline Runs Short; Dealers Use Up Quotas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gasoline reserves are short in cities throughout Michigan, it was reported today.

Hardest hit was Bay City, where operators of filling stations decided yesterday to continue upon a day-to-day basis.

The shortage, extending to a serious degree throughout the Saginaw Valley, was to be discussed Friday at a meeting called by Joseph D. Hadley, executive secretary of the Michigan Petroleum association.

The Bay City gasoline scarcity —which was repeated to a lesser extent in at least three other municipalities—was described by service station spokesmen as the "worst since the oil business started."

Reporting October quotas were exhausted several days ago, the spokesmen blamed the difficulty on a lack of transportation, a shortage of refinery facilities, and prolonged summer weather which has kept farm machinery in the fields longer than usual.

Ann Arbor and Port Huron reported lesser shortages, while at Detroit filling stations were feeling what was described as an "end-of-the-month pinch." The retail gasoline dealers of Michigan officials said there would be "plenty of gas" in the motor city by Sunday when suppliers receive their November quotas.

At Ann Arbor six wholesale distributors described their situation was unchanged from last summer when supplies were "tight." They said strict allocations were being continued, and filling stations had reduced their week-day hours and begun closing on Sundays.

A similar situation at Port Huron may "possibly get worse," according to one authority. He said stations were closing at 3 p. m. Sunday and other cuts had been made in their service schedules.

CHICAGO POLICE HUNTI _LER

Beaten Body Of Boy, 7, Found In Preserve At River Forest

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP) — Police rounded up all known sex offense suspects today as they intensified their search for the slayer of Lonnie Fellick, 7, whose beaten body was found in a forest preserve 11 days after he disappeared from home.

State's Attorney William J. Tuohy, directing investigation, said he believed the boy, who was last seen alive Oct. 18 in a park near his northwest side home, was slain by a sex criminal.

Coroner A. L. Brodie said Lonnie died of blows that fractured his skull behind the left ear and caused a hemorrhage in his left chest. His right temple also had been injured. A mailman walking through the forest preserve in Suburban River Forest, several miles from the Fellick home, discovered the boy's body yesterday.

Police found a 30-pound piece of concrete pavement near the boy's body and investigators said it probably was the death weapon. They said, however, no finger prints were found on the concrete. Investigators said the boy's clothing had been disarranged and although preliminary examination did not disclose any sexual abuse of the child's body they believed he was slain by a sex moron.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Mary Fellick, had reported to police on Oct. 18 that Lonnie had threatened to run away from home rather than be placed in a foster home if a threatened eviction of Mrs. Fellick and her seven children was carried out.

Negligence Blamed For River Disaster That Cost 19 Lives

St. Louis, Oct. 30 (AP)—An investigator's report today atiributed negligence by the chief engineer for an explosion and fire aboard the excursion steamer Island Queen that cost 19 lives last Sept. 9 at Pittsburgh, Pa.

The report by Capt. Ross Wilson was released by the St. Louis Coast Guard office.

The coast guard said a probe by Captain Willoh, marine inspector and head of an investigating board, disclosed Chief Engineer Fred Dicknow of Cincinnati, who was one of the victims, was welding near Bunkers containing about 27,000 gallons of fuel oil.

The vessel owned by Coney Island, Inc., of Cincinnati, was being prepared for a regular nightly passenger trip when the disaster occurred. No passengers were aboard at the time.

OUT OF GAS—Roy Bachelor paints a melancholy greeting for would-be customers at his Cincinnati service station. Many filling stations in this area have run out of gas and are still waiting for their November gas allocations.

MAINE WAITING FOR MORE RAIN

First Showers Fail To Conquer Widespread Forest Blazes

Portland, Me., Oct. 30 (AP)—Exhausted Maine took heart from a weather bureau prediction of "at least as much more" rain today as showers wet down but failed to conquer the state's widespread forest blazes yesterday.

For two weeks the fires have spread destruction, taking 15 lives, levelling 1,100 homes and blackening 200,000 acres of woodland.

Yesterday's rain ranged from half an inch, at Greenville, down to .03 of an inch at Augusta. The Portland area had a quarter inch.

Whether it was an natural or partly man-made was a moot point.

Scientists in two B-17's sowed clouds over New Hampshire with dry ice, hoping to make it rain in Maine. Vincent J. Schaeffer, general electric scientist on the flight, said he believed the mission "was successful."

Weathermen at Portland were unable to judge the effect of the dry ice technique because rain fell before and after the aerial rainmakers started operations.

In any case, there wasn't enough. "The drizzle x x x hasn't eliminated the fire menace but has helped hold fires in their present 'under control' status," said Forest Commissioner Raymond E. Rendall.

Anti-Trust Suits Faced by 17 Big New York Banks

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Attorney General Clark today announced the filing of a civil antitrust suit against 17 of the largest investment banking firms in New York. The suit charges a conspiracy to monopolize the handling of securities issues.

In addition, the government asks for dissolution of the Investment Bankers Association of America which maintains headquarters in Chicago.

Clark told a news conference the suit is being filed in Federal district court for southern New York.

He described the suit as "one of the largest and most important in the history of the antitrust laws."

The complaint alleges that the 17 banking firms "have conspired to restrain unreasonably and to monopolize the securities business in this country by restricting, controlling and fixing the channels and methods, the prices, terms, and conditions upon which security issues are merchandised."

CAR DEALER KILLED

Bay City, Mich., Oct. 30 (AP)—Max Hightower 34, of (719 E. Main) Owosso, a used car dealer, died in Mercy Hospital here early today of injuries suffered in an auto accident on US-23 north of Bay City. Deputy Sheriff Harold Busch said Hightower's car smashed into a dozen rural mail boxes last night and a splintered post flew back through the windshield and struck him in the face.

Plane Wreck Fatal To Oregon Governor And State Officials

Klamath Falls, Ore., Oct. 30 (AP) —The wreckage of a plane carrying Gov. Earl Snell of Oregon and two other top officials and the pilot was reached by a search party today and there were no survivors, Fremont Forest Supervisor Merle Lowden said today.

Lowden said that Ranger Jack Smith, with the party at the wreckage, reported by portable radio that the aircraft was completely demolished and four bodies were found.

Lowden said that an attempt would be made immediately to establish further communication with the crew. He said he believed the bodies are now being moved out.

Because of the difficult terrain, it was believed possible it might require hours to bring out the bodies, but Lowden said the message from Smith did not say how close the wreckage was to the nearest logging road, so no time estimate was possible.

Killed with Gov. Snell were State Senate President Marshall Cornett, 49, Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell jr., 41, and Cliff Hogue, 42, Klamath Falls, the pilot. They had left here Tuesday night on a one-hour hop to Lake County's Warner Valley to hunt waterfowl.

The wreckage was found is heavily timbered country 70 miles east of here and a few miles north of the Oregon-California border.

Throughout the night state police, forest rangers, army air rescue unit personnel, coast guardsmen and volunteers had combed the area, operating from headquarters at the Dog Lake Forest Guard station.

Confirmation of the governor's death immediately elevated John H. Hall, 48, Portland attorney, to the governorship by virtue of his position as speaker of the house. He will fill by appointment the vacancy in the secretary of state's office.

The succession of the speaker is provided by the Oregon constitution, in an amendment approved by the voters in 1946 at the time the nation became concerned over the succession line in the federal government.

Hall has been a member of the legislature since 1939, after a previous two year term served from 1933, and like all Oregon key executives is a Republican.

TRIBES INVADE KASHMIR, INDIA

British Civilians Are Evacuated By Plane From Danger Zone

New Delhi, Oct. 30 (AP) — Fifteen Royal Air Force Dakotas were expected to complete evacuation today of British civilians from Kashmir, where Indian and state troops were reported repelling invading Pathan tribesmen from Pakistan's northwest frontier province.

The evacuees—mostly retired civil servants, vacationists and school children—will total between 200 and 250.

A high military source at Indian headquarters said it was unlikely that military operations would be completed in Kashmir for some months. The raiders were said to total at least 5,000 men and reinforcements still are streaming across the Pakistan border. The invaders were reported to be well armed with modern weapons.

Dispatches from Kashmir said that Baramulla was still in the hands of the raiders and that the present front was 15 to 20 miles from the capital of Srinagar. An outflanking movement by the raiders designed to capture Srinagar was reported foiled.

In the Moslem-ruled state of Junagadh in the Kathiawar peninsula a self-styled "provisional government" composed of Hindus announced it was training 1,000 men as a nucleus army to recapture the remainder of the state from the Nawab, who wishes to accede to Pakistan.

Bandits Captured After $43 Detroit Restaurant Holdup

Detroit, Oct. 30 (AP)—Two young bandits and their lookout man were captured by police early today just ten minutes after a restaurant proprietor reported he and his wife had been robbed of $43 at gunpoint.

The three, held on robbery armed charges, were identified by Patrolman Lyman Mathewson as Donald Lee Ferguson, 21, Richard L. Olsen, 24, and Robert Kunz, 19.

GUNMEN ESCAPE WITH $110,000

Air Conditioning Firm In Boston Robbed Of Big Payroll

Boston, Oct. 30 (AP)—Six gunmen held up the B. F. Sturtevant company in the Hyde Park district today, escaping with a $110,000 payroll.

The Sturtevant company is a division of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Working methodically, two of the men entered the office of R. W. Marshall, paymaster, and two others went into an adjoining office. A fifth stood at a door leading into the factory, and the sixth remained at the wheel of the getaway car.

One of the pair who walked into the paymoster's office wore a burlap bag over his head. Marshall and five employes who were preparing to assist in preparation of the payroll were herded together, facing a wall. The pair then seized the money and fled.

Gardner Derry, general manager of the plant, said the $110,000 was in small denomination bills, and that the paymaster and his assistants had just taken it from a vault to count it out into about 2,000 employes' pay envelopes.

Irked Legislators Tackle Pay Raise Mixup Next Week

Lansing, Oct. 30 (AP)—Governor Sigler, abandoning thoughts of cancelling a special session of the legislature next week, said today the meeting of the law-makers would proceed as scheduled next Wednesday.

"This matter must be faced one time or another," Sigler said, referring to financial provisions for state employes pay raises. "The quicker we get at it the better it will be for all concerned."

The suggestion that the special session be called off came from Rep. John P. Espie, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, who insisted the Civil Service commission's "premature action" in ordering the pay raises so alienated the legislature as to make a session a waste of time.

Espie, dean of the legislature's Republicans, travelled from his home in Eagle to confer with the governor on the situation.

He told Sigler that the $3,157,000 proposed appropriation to finance $20 to $40 monthly pay raises between January 1 and June 30 had no chance to get through the senate and would have a rough road in the house.

The Senate is the center of long-standing Legislative resentment towards the Civil Service Commission.

Legislators were angered, Espie said, by the commission's ordering the pay raises without getting legislative approval first.

Seeking to smooth the traditional resentment, Sigler months ago persuaded the commission and legislative leaders to meet and discuss the proposed pay raise together.

The commission then apparently agreed to await legislative action before inaugurating the raise. Two weeks ago, Civil Service Director Thomas J. Wilson told Sigler the state wage situation was a major emergency in that resignations had reached serious proportions. Sigler then called the special session.

The governor himself was obviously taken aback Tuesday by the commission's surprise action in flatly declaring the raises would go into effect January 1.

Wilson, however, today professed surprise that anyone should have been surprised at the commission's action.

"The commissioners did nothing more than their constitutional duty," he said.

COAL EXPORTING EMBARGO URGED

Domestic Reserves Low, Michigan Dealers Are Warned

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 30 (AP) —Several hundred Michigan coal dealers were urged last night to demand a 30-day embargo on coal exports before the end of the year for the purpose of building up domestic reserves.

Bernie Urheim, Chicago, executive secretary of the American retail Coal Association, told members of the Michigan Retail Coal Merchants Association meeting here that a shortage of railroad cars was the most serious factor in a nationwide coal scarcity.

In Michigan and most of the midwest, Urheim said, householders will get enough coal this winter, but it may not always be the size and quality desired.

Besides extensive coal exports and the railroad car shortage, Urheim added that prolonged miner strikes also were partially to blame for the low reserves throughout the country.

At the present rate of export, he declared, dealers may soon have trouble getting deliveries of coal.

W. W. Bayfield, executive secretary of the American Wholesale Coal Association, said that retail dealers across the nation have a 12-day reserve supply, compared to a 22-day stock in the Autumn of 1943.

Industrial users, slightly better prepared, have a 65-day backlog, he added.

Ten Screen Writers Cited For Contempt In Washington Quiz

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Two more Hollywood screen writers were cited for contempt by a House Un-American Activities Subcommittee today, bringing to 10 the number thus accused.

Ring Lardner, jr., and Lester Cole were cited when they refused to give "yes or no" answers to questions whether they are or have been Communists."

As in the eight previous cases, the committee presented testimony from its investigators of finding evidence that the men cited have been affiliated with the Communist party.

Like the others cited, the witnesses took the stand that the committee has no right to ask questions about political beliefs.

REDS ORGANIZE PAN SLAV UNION

Chile Minister Heckled As He Attacks Plot Of Soviet Russia

BY RICHARD G. MASSOCK

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 30. (AP)—Amid the shouts of Communist hecklers, Chilean Interior Minister Adm. Immanuel Holger told the chamber of deputies last night that Soviet Russia was trying to "spread its tenacles over America" through the organization of "Pan Slav Unions" with headquarters in Montevideo.

Holger told the chamber that the Chilean government possessed detailed facts and names connected with the organization of Czechoslovak, Yugoslav, Russian and Polish colonies in South America through an "inter-Slav coordinating committee," whose members, he said, had been instructed by "Moscow" not to appear publicly as "Communist elements."

Holger's speech was delivered in explanation of Chile's recent severance of diplomatic relations with Russia and Cechoslovakia and the expulsion of two Yugoslav diplomats, which caused Yugoslavia to break with Chile.

Holger said the "inter-Slav coordinating committee" in Chile was composed of five Yugoslavs, four Czechs, three Russians and three Poles, whom he named.

The government investigation department meanwhile reported the arrest last night of three aliens whom it accused of being Communists engaged in seditious activities.

Woman, 700 Pounds, Moved to Hospital; Job Takes 17 Men

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 30. (AP)—The services of 17 men, including 10 policemen, were required to remove Mrs. Elizabeth Ebner, 70, who weighs 700 pounds, from her home to a hospital.

Mrs. Ebner, who has been bedridden for 20 years, suffered a hip injury a week ago when she fell out of bed and yesterday was taken to a hospital in a hearse. Ten policemen, unable to place Mrs. Ebner in a police ambulance, summoned an undertaker who with the aid of the policemen, placed Mrs. Ebner on a casket cart and took her to the hospital in a hearse.

The policemen, two undertakers and five hospital employes were required to lift Mrs. Ebner from the hearse to the cart. She was placed in two hospital beds, which had been bolstered up with lumber.

Natives Join Hunt On Alaskan Coast For Missing Plane

Ketchikan, Alaska, Oct. 30—(AP) —Southeastern Alaska natives joined with coast guard ground searching parties today in attempts to locate a missing Pan American World Airways plane with 18 aboard.

Duke Island, lying south of Annette Island, was one search area and planes flew as low as 100 feet over its beaches and inlets yesterday looking for the big ship which disappeared Sunday. The plane's veteran pilot, Capt. Alf N. Monsen, had reported extreme air turbulence as he neared Annette Island Sunday afternoon.

Royal Canadian Air Force planes and Navy PBY's, which have joined Pan American's big DC-3's and numerous small planes in the work, searched other areas.

The native village of Metlakatla sent a party of 15 men to work along the beaches of Annette Island. Monsen's 25-year-old son, Wesley, also a pilot who had often flown the Alaska route with his father, flew north yesterday to take part in the search.

HEARING ENDS WITH OUSTER OF OFFICIALS

DEFENSE STUNNED BY SUDDEN MOVE AT LANSING

BY JACK I. GREEN

Lansing, Oct. 30. (AP)—Governor Sigler brought the three-day old prison ouster hearing to a dramatic halt Wednesday, ousting J. Fred Munnell, manager of the prison industries, and virtually ordering the state corrections commission to dismiss William H. Burke, assistant corrections director.

Sigler implied he was turning Burke's case over to the commission so that in acting it could earn the respect of the public.

CLOSE CHECK PROMISED

Lansing, Oct. 30 (AP) — Governor Sigler, announcing intentions to inspect all the state prisons and prison factories, said today "I personally will take a definite hand in the operation of these institutions."

Sigler said he would meet with the corrections commission as soon as he had made two new appointments to it. He indicated he plans to replace Fred R. Johnson of Detroit and the Rev. Edgar Dewitt Jones of Detroit, whose terms have expired, and who were reported by the governor as desiring to retire from the commission.

Referring to the commission's complaint the Michigan prisons have been unduly investigated, Sigler said "The prisons are not going to have the people's respect while you have men like Burke at their head. So I leave him to you."

Appeal Expected

Stunned by the unexpectedness of Sigler's action, the defense was slow to react. The hearing had been expected to continue for several days.

Carl H. Smith, of Bay City, attorney for Munnell, said he had not decided whether to make the expected appeal to the State Civil Service Commission. Former Attorney General Foss O. Eldred, counsel for Burke, said he would await the commission's decision on Burke.

The commission scheduled a meeting today to decide "when and how" to hear the Burke case.

Sigler brought the lengthy hearing to an abrupt close a few minutes after the defense and prosecution had rested the case of Munnell. No testimony had been taken against Burke.

The governor suddenly called Berry N. Beaman, of Jackson, corrections commission chairman, to the witness stand, declaring "I want to ask you a few questions."

When he finished talking a few minutes later, Munnell was fired and the Burke case was in Beaman's lap. Beaman also looked stunned.

Commission Ignored

Sigler remarked that Beaman had written him about the continual investigation of the prisons and that the fact that the commission was ignored when findings were announced by Sigler's investigators. Beaman, he said,

Carnival At Rock School Saturday

A Halloween carnival, sponsored by the senior class of Rock high school, will be held Saturday evening, November 1, beginning at 6:30 o'clock, at the school.

Various concessions and entertainment will include a "spook" house, novelty stand, fortune teller, fish pond, shooting gallery, octopus ride, fortune wheel, picture gallery, house of mirrors, games and a cafeteria.

The feature of the evening will be a play, "Aunt Miranda's Will," which will be presented by the sophomore class.

YOUTHS HELD FOR LARCENY

Admit Stealing Tires, Tools From Parked Automobiles

Lawrence Nelson, 22, Cornell, and Wayne Kinnart, 17, Perkins, pleaded guilty to two complaints of petty larceny in justice court yesterday but sentence was deferred for a week while police authorities check further into their admitted thefts of several automobile tires and other articles from parked automobiles in Escanaba.

The two defendants admitted stealing assorted tools from a trunk of an automobile apriked at 1507 Third avenue north, owned by Ralph Steffens. They also admitted stealing an automobile tire, tube and rim owned by Lester Johnson, 1423 First avenue north. The youths have confessed the thefts of two other automobile tires and additional articles from parked cars in Escanaba and police are seeking the owners of these items.

The youths were arrested in Manistique by state police when they attempted to sell the stolen tires.

CITY CHANGING LAMP DESIGN

Longer Standards Will Be Used On Side Streets

The installation of new street lamps of a type to be used eventually along the principal streets of the city is being started on the first two blocks of South 11th street by a city electrical crew.

The new lamp standards are similar in design to those already in use on Ludington street. They are 22 feet in height and the lamps will be hung from arms extending from the top of the standard. City officials said the design will provide more efficient lighting than the conventional standards now in use on the principal side streets. City Manager Avonson reported that the new design also is less expensive than the standards now in use.

The changeover will be made gradually on a replacement basis.

Halloween Party at Rapid River School On Friday Evening

Rapid River, Oct. 30—A Halloween carnival and dance will be held at the Rapid River high school Friday evening, beginning at 7 and ending at 11:30. All are invited.

The carnival will be from 7 to 10:15 and the dance from 10:15 to 11:30. Buses will pick up the country children and will return them at 10:15.

The class responsibilities for the carnival are: Seniors—games, food concessions; juniors—comic movie, food concessions; sophomores—"Hit the Monkey" game, bottles concessions; freshmen—spookhouse, pop and popcorn; eighth grade—paddle wheel, novelties; seventh grade—fish pond, cork gun.

TIMBER USAGE IS DISCUSSED

Louisville Industrialist Speaks At Loggers Congress

"The Problem of Forest Utilization" was the subject of an information-packed address delivered by C. D. Dosker, president of Gamble Brothers, Inc., Louisville, Ky., at the second annual Lake States Logging Congress in Houghton today. The Gamble company manufactures various plywood products.

"Timber is a crop, and is the great renewable resource of our nation," Mr. Dosker said. "Long after the copper is gone from Calumet, and the iron ore from the Mesabi we still will have trees."

The speaker said that roughly it is estimated that only one-third of the actual cubic contents of a tree is utilized. The problem of utilization, he added, falls into two major categories: First, stop needless and avoidable waste by the proper channeling of all usable portions of every tree taken from the forests into those existing products for which there are markets currently available; secondly, by improving manufacturing equipment and procedures, including utilization of by-products into new products."

New Methods Needed

Mr. Dosker said there is an urgent need for new methods in the lumber industry, beginning with woods operations and carrying completely through on all stages of conversion.

"While we have seen a considerable degree of improvement in logging methods in the past 15 years, most of these improvements are the results of adaptation of equipment designed for other industries," he continued. "One of the best illustrations of this is the caterpillar tractor. There is still too much laying down and picking up in the wods operations which are essentially mass movements of bulky materials. Perhap s some day the helicopter may replace the truck."

Mr. Dosker also pointed out that there has been practically no change in sawmilling methods in the past four generations. Much of the waste in lumbering, he feels, is due to antiquated production processes. He also raised the question of whether much wastage is being caused by the use of higher grades of lumber than are needed for specific purposes.

"Leave Only the Leaves"

"There are tremendous potentials for increased profits in the lumber and timber products industry through improved utilization of our forest resources," Mr. Dosker concluded. "It cannot be done by wishful thinking. It can be done by careful planning and a program for obtaining definite reliable figures from which conclusions can be safely drawn. There is no question but that through research, products from so-called woods and mill waste can be evolved, but that cannot be done by wishful thinking. It takes dollars and more dollars in research to produce results. It also takes time—time measured in years.

"The packing industry used to be a very wasteful industry. It has now reached a stage where the value of the by-products is almost equal to its major products. They have a motto: 'We save everything but the squeal.'

"Don't you believe that the time has come when we in the lumber industry should also have a motto? Let us recommend: 'We leave only the leaves.'"

Other Program Features

A first aid demonstration and safety program was also presented this afternoon. Among those participating in this program was M. D. Jackson of Escanaba, safety engineer of Employes Mutual.

On Friday, there will be a panel discussion on truck and equipment lubrication, tires and tire maintenance and current changes in the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission rulings. Russell L. Moberly, director of Industrial Management Institute, University of Wisconsin, will be the speaker at the Friday evening banquet. Saturday's program will be featured by demonstrations of lumbering equipment at the Theiler Brothers logging operations at Atlantic Mine.

Student Pilot Lands On Old State Road To Escape Thick Fog

Fliers at the Escanaba airport are still congratulating Webster L. Marble II, Gladstone student pilot, for his "swell job" of bringing down a Piper Cub in a forced landing on a strip of tarvia at the old state road near the city dump grounds west of the airport.

It all happened when Marble, who soloed last September, was flying the traffic pattern practicing landings at the Escanaba airport and was suddenly blown out of the pattern by a quick wind shift off the lake. Fog and a strong wind came in quickly from a southeasterly direction.

Instead of trying to land at the airport in the dense fog, Marble wisely selected the old state road, where the weather was clear. He brought the plane down without mishap, puncturing only a small hole at the wing tip which struck a small tree.

"The fog and wind came in quickly," Wally Arntzen, head of the flight school, said. "Marble used his head coming down in the clear instead of staying in the fog."

3 COMMUNITIES FINISH SURVEYS

Gladstone, Norway And Republic Ready To Seek Industry

Three Upper Peninsula communities—Gladstone, Norway and Republic—have completed their industrial surveys and have received 100 mimegraphed copies each from the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, it was revealed at the closing session of the industrial conference which closed at the Sherman hotel late Wednesday.

Thirty-one other surveys are in process of completion, Ben F. Clark, Marquette, field representative of the Michigan Department of Economic Development, reported at the conference.

George E. Bishop, secretary of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, who presided at the conference here, urged all communities to complete their industrial surveys by Dec. 15, so that they may be typewritten and discussed at another meeting to be held in Marquette in February. After the February meeting, information gleaned from the various surveys will be compiled in an all-Upper Peninsula brochure which will be used in advertising the industrial advantages of the Hiawathaland region.

Ideal living conditions in the Upper Peninsula are among factors that influence industrialists to locate in this region it was brought out at the meeting. Albert J. Jacobson who conducts a resort five miles east of Marquette on Lake Superior, said he attended the conference here to obtain information to answer questions put to him by vacationists.

"Last summer, some of the industrial and business men who came from Detroit and other cities to spend their vacation at my resort told me they wished they could locate up in this country," Jacobson explained. "They wanted to know the opportunities for setting up small factories and other businesses, for they want to get away from the grind of the city life."

With surveys completed, the Upper Peninsula must put the information to work to create and attract new industries, Frederic W. Olmstead, Washington, D. C., representative of the U. S. Department of Commerce. Speaking on the topic, "The Job From Now On", Olmstead explained how the surveys would be presented in the industrial brochure and he urged that each community appoint active industrial committees to put the plans to work.

Ben F. Clark, former South Haven newspaper editor, who is now field representative for the Michigan Department of Economic Development, suggested presentation of a community's industrial possibilities.

George Newton of Iron Mountain presented a resolution, urging that the industrial program be a continuing project of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau. The resolution passed unanimously.

Charles Burton, chairman of the Gladstone Chamber of Commerce's industrial committee, urged that communities not rest with the mere completion of surveys, lest other sections of the country 'get the jump" on the Upper Peninsula. He emphasized the need for using the survey as a basis for a program of action to promote the industrial development of the area.

Charles Follo, U. P. director of the University of Michigan Extension Service, spoke briefly, offering the cooperation of the Ann Arbor education institution in any way possible to further the Upper Peninsula's industrial program.

Add Sewing Classes In Arts and Crafts Of City Recreation

Two new classes in sewing, on Thursday and Friday afternoon, have been added to the arts and crafts program by the City Recretion department, it was announced today.

The classes, taught by Mrs. Bertha LaChapelle, will be held from 2 to 5 Thursday and Friday afternoon, in addition to the former classes held from 7 to 10 every night except Friday.

The new classes were designed to accommodate mothers who could not attend evening class.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Beaverbrook Hits Loan

LORD BEAVERBROOK, British newspaper publisher, declared in an interview at Montreal Tuesday that Britain did not need the $3,750,000,000 loan from the United States in 1946 and that the money has done little to lighten the burden of the British people.

Beaverbrook charged that the loan, now almost entirely gone, has been squandered on luxuries and added that the loan should have been "gracefully refused."

Just to keep the record straight, it should be pointed out that the 3 3-4 billion dollar loan was requested by the British after the discontinuance of lend-lease. Beaverbrook's suggestion that it should have been "gracefully refused" implies that the loan was being thrust upon the British people by the American Congress.

Beaverbrook's charge that the loan has been squandered echoes the remarks of Winston Churchill, leader of the opposition party in England. Unlike Beaverbrook, however, Churchill has been one of the leading proponents of American aid to Britain.

The remarks of Beaverbrook, coming on the eve of a special session of Congress called for the purpose of providing emergency relief to western Europe, will not help to create American sentiment in support of further financial assistance for Britain. Although Beaverbrook's remarks are critical of the British squandering of the loan, they also imply ungratefulness to the United States for making the funds available to the British people.

Escanaba vs. Gladstone

THE Eskymos and the Gladstone Braves will play their annual football game Saturday afternoon at the Escanaba athletic field and as usual when these rivals meet on the gridiron, it's an occasion that commands intense interest among the sports fans of the county.

This year for the second consecutive season the Braves are in the favored role by virtue of their undefeated season's records. The Eskymos, however, are making no concession to the Braves and it may be taken for granted that the Escanaba lads, to use a term in the sports vernacular, will be playing over their heads in this game, a fitting climax to the football season in Delta county.

The sports rivalry that exists between Escanaba and Gladstone is an accumulation of many years. Fortunately, it is a healthy rivalry in which athletes and followers of both communities possess great respect for each other. The abusive techniques that characterized sports rivalries of years gone by are gone, as they should be, and in their place has come a high degree of sportsmanship that better portrays the purposes of athletics.

Unlike the Gladstone Braves, who are in their third successive football season without defeat, the Eskymos have had their ups and downs this fall, with four decisive defeats against three victories. The Eskymos, of course, have played the harder schedule, understandably so in view of the disparity in the enrollment of the two schools.

Everything that has happened up to now in the football season of 1947 is forgotten when these two old rivals meet, as they will next Saturday on the Escanaba gridiron. It'll be a great game, a great spectacle and all the loyal football fans of the two cities will be on hand to join in the entertainment.

Cities Seek Silence

ACTION taken by the Escanaba city council to curb boisterousness by wedding parties driving up and down Ludington street and other obnoxious noise-making is in line with policies being adopted in other cities.

Schenectady, N. Y., recently passed an ordinance branding sound trucks as a nuisance and banning them from city streets. Sacramento, Calif., is considering an ordinance to prohibit sound amplifying from both airplanes and sound trucks, and to forbid advertising from motor vehicles on city streets.

Many other cities have adopted anti-noise ordinances. Where these regulations have been both enforced and observed, there has been a noticeable decline in traffic accidents. Doubtless, too, the nerves and tempers of many citizens have remained cooler, although no statistics can be gathered on this phase of noise problem.

Fire Losses Far-Reaching

THOSE hunters or other careless individuals, who tossed away the lighted cigarets or matches, may have thought that they were setting fire to valueless brush and scrub timber at the time. But the forest fires in Maine recently offered a clear example of the far-reaching consequences of human carelessness in the handling of such firebrands.

When forest fires destroyed millions of dollars worth of property at Bar Harbor, Me., the flames also consumed a laboratory, where important research work in the fight against cancer had been carried on. Much valuable research material, such as notes, materials and equipment, were lost, and the laborious studies must be started all over again.

General rains now appear to have eliminated the fire hazard in the woodlands for this season, at least, but the danger still remains in the homes, hotels and other public buildings. The disastrous hotel disasters of recent years must be kept in mind, and precautionary measures taken immediately after their occurrence should be embodied in a permanent law enforcement program.

Many tragedies occur in the homes of America. It is estimated that about 6,000 children under the age of five die in home accidents each year, and more than a third die from burns and scalds. Carelessness on the part of parents is often the cause.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters makes the following suggestions that should be memorized by every parent. Never leave children unattended in the home, and be sure the sitter is responsible. Keep matches, hot liquids and lamps out of reach of children. Don't permit children to play with bonfires or fireworks. Avoid dressing children in highly inflammable clothing, such as net dresses. In case of fire, get children out of the house, then call the fire department.

FELLER'S $87,000
(Marquette Mining Journal)

Some years back there was great to-do among baseball fans when it was reported that Babe Ruth was getting $80,000 a year. That was a new record. Now it comes out that Bob Feller, the Cleveland pitcher who incorporated himself for income tax purposes, got $87,000 this past season. It passes by almost unnoticed.

Feller was the American League's only pitcher to win more than 20 games this year, but his performance came nowhere near a record. His base pay was $50,000, and the remainder a bonus based on attendance.

This figures out to nearly $3,000 for every game in which he participated; and some glutton for statistics may calculate the rate per ball pitcher. Even that isn't likely to introduce piece-work rates for big league ball players, nor to bring more fans through the turnstiles.

Feller's pay is still less than a movie star's and his performance lacks much of the Ruthian showmanship. Just the same, his $87,000 "ain't hay," even though Rapid Robert may own a couple of farms in this year of inflation.

When serving a course dinner it's too costly these days to try and make both ends meat.

Take My Word For It . . Frank Colby

SUCH WORDS AS FEATURE, SCHEDULE

Question: Will you please put something in your column that will help me to make my speech students say "fee-tyoor" instead of "fee-chur," "sked-yool" instead of "sked-jool," "pik-tyoor" instead of "pik-cher," etc.?—H. A.

Answer: Sorry. Teaching such overprecise pronunciations is a waste of good time. Your pronunciations are never heard in unaffected speech, nor are they recommended by most competent authorities.

I have heard from other people who believe, as you do, that Webster's New International Dictionary, the New Century, and one or two others, list 'fee-tyoor" for feature, "sked-yool" for schedule, etc. And, indeed, the dictionaries actually seem to do so.

The confusion is caused by the cryptic symbols employed by Webster's in giving the pronunciations of certain "tu" and "du" words. To the casual reader Webster's pronunciations of feature and schedule are taken to be "fee-tyoor" and "sked-yool."

But to learn what Webster's "tu" and "du" symbols actually represent, one must turn to paragraph 249, page lii, in the Pronunciation section, and read a mass of eye-punishing fine print. There it is explained that, in such words as feature, future, nature, picture, schedule, gradual, graduate, the "t" is palatized to "ch" and the "d" is palatized to "j." This palatization, Webster's points out, ". . . is the natural pronunciation in general use by unaffected speakers in all the common words."

Funk & Wagnalls, the Thorndike Century, Grosset & Dunlap's "Words: The New Dictionary" do not employ the misleading "tu" and "du" symbols. They use the realistic "ch" and "j" thus: fea-chur, pik-chur, skej-ule, gra-ju-ate, sol-jer (soldier), etc.

One of the greatest mistakes a speech teacher can make is to insist on pronunciations, and other tricks of speech, that are grandiloquent, affected, or snobbish. Such teachings have the effect of turning normal American students against speech improvement. It is quite natural for them to rebel: "Do you think I'd talk like that? I should say not."

Teach them good colloquial usage—the style of well-bred ease—and leave the pretty-pretty talk to the elegant madames of the "drahma" schools.

Wolverhampton, England.—One of the stately halls of England, on the edge of Wolverhampton, has a new tenant. The tenant is the national coal board, represented in this division by Sir Ben Smith, who came up from the ranks of the trade-union movement to play an important part in the councils of the Labor government.

What has happened to Himley Hall is symbolic of changes taking place in England in a difficult period of transition. This handsome Georgian house, with its stables, its paddock and meadows, the lake, the farm and the gentle hedgerows, was formerly the home of the Earl of Dudley. The present earl was one of the close friends of the Duke of Windsor in the gay days long before the then Prince of Wales dreamed that he would go into exile.

When Sir Ben Smith was appointed chairman of the West Midland division of the national coal board, his first task was to find a building for office space. That is one of the scarcest commodities in England. He decided finally to buy Himley Hall for $180,000. The big house would provide plenty of room for offices. The farm could be worked and the produce sold as before.

And as further justification for the purchase, Sir Ben pointed to the fact that the coal deposits beneath the fields could some day be worked to provide a return at least equal to the total purchase price. A considerable part of the Dudley wealth had come from nearby coal mines, which were taken over by the state under nationalization, as were all of Britain's 1,400 mines.

—CONSERVATIVES PEEVED—

But the fact that Sir Ben and the coal board should be occupying Himley Hall has produced almost as much criticism as anything that the board has done in the ten months it has existed. The conservative press is deeply affronted by the idea. The attacks sound very much like the kind of abuse poured on the new deal in the first Roosevelt administration.

Conservatism—above all, traditionalism—has deeper roots here than in America. A controversy has developed because the coal board, in another division, proposes to dig up the coal under the beautiful hills of Lyme Hall, which was turned over by its owners to the national trust as a museum and public park. Now, as much of the press would have it, the coal board proposes to desecrate this beauty. This is the kind of resistance which any change inevitably meets when it comes up against England's richly storied past.

Sir Ben, who has broad autonomous power as a divisional chairman, is working hard to push modernization of the coal pits in his area. Many pits have been operated by methods long since abandoned in the United States.

—OLD METHODS USED—

I visited a small mine producing about 700 tons of coal a day. On the surface at the pit-head, 30 men were employed in conveying the small cars full of coal that came up from the mine. The manager, who had inspected mines in America, said that with modern techniques a similar mine near Pittsburgh produced 5,000 tons a day and that only three men were employed on the surface.

Modernization was going forward, although necessarily on a modest scale since that pit would be abandoned in two or three years as exhausted. Much of the machinery on the surface bore the date 1882.

Output per man-shift in Britain's mines today is slightly more than one ton. The comparable figure for the United States is about five tons. But, as the visitor is repeatedly told, the comparison is not a fair one since conditions in the two countries are so different.

Britain has few of the broad, straight seams of coal that have made mechanization and high production in America possible. The presence of water below the surface creates obstacles that are exceptional in the U. S. Then, too, the inherent conservatism of the miners and the mine owners has worked against change.

The present goal in the new battle for Britain is two tons per man-shift. Output is rising, but slowly. The coming of Christmas, with an incentive to earn money, is considered likely to increase it.

This matter of incentives under socialization is always cropping up. The mine managers have formed a union since the mines were nationalized, to make sure that they get fair pay. Sir Ben Smith says that in all probability managerial pay throughout the industry will be equalized.

Sir Ben's own appointment caused an uproar on this same issue. The tory press charged the government with finding convenient jobs within the coal board for over-age politicians. Sir Ben, who was in Washington for two years during the war as British cabinet representative for supply, was later a failure as minister of food, although his friends insist that circumstances beyond his control made it an impossible job. He is 68 years old.

The Labor government in London, insofar as I have been abde to discover, had nothing to do with Sir Ben's selection as one of the eight divisional chiefs under the coal board. He was the choice of Lord Hyndley, who is chairman of the national coal board, with powers quite independent of the government.

This is all part of the curious and difficult experiment in evolutionary socialism in a democracy. Whether or not it will work, only time will tell.

The greatest argument against hunting for an argument is losing it right afterward.

Such Is the Life of the World's Trouble-Shooter

UNIDENTIFIED DEAD— Life is fleeting and the memory of man is short. In many parts of Delta county there are old cemeteries where wandering pioneers, men and women without families or known kin, are buried in unmarked graves. In later years, when coroners and morticians in compliance with state law began keeping records even of the unidentified dead there is at least a date on file to mark the passing of a human life.

We were talking about such things one day with Emerson Harvey of the Allo funeral home. Later he supplied us with some information about the unidentified dead from their records, dating back more than 40 years. Some of the information presented in this column comes from the records, and the remainder is from newspaper accounts of that time.

TURKEY RAFFLE CASE—The first case of record is the finding of the body of an unidentified man at Wells on Aug. 14, 1905. He was about 45 years old. His name was never learned and he was buried in an unmarked grave in the "Potter's Field" of that day.

The second case came to the attention of authorities on Nov. 25, 1910, when the body of a rather slight, partially bald man about 38 years old was found along the Soo Line railroad tracks near the farm of Atty. Clyde Hayden in Wells township. The body was found by Harold Foster, Coroner P. C. Dube and other officers said they believed the man had either been killed by the train while walking along the track, or after falling from the train.

The Sunday before the body was found, George McGuire said he saw the man walking in Escanaba in company with another man. The only clue to the dead man's identity was his clothing—a light hat, black coat, vest and trousers—and a folded ticket in the man's pocket. The ticket was for a turkey raffle in Green Bay on Nov. 20, 1910. The man's identity was never learned.

THE GOLD WATCH —It was a hot summer day —August 21 — in 1915. Frank Massar, Lester Buchholtz and Carl Iverson were at the Oliver Coal company dock and discovered the badly decomposed body of a man floating in the water.

Dr. George Bartley, coroner, and other officers were summoned and the body was removed from the water and taken to the funeral home. The coroner reported the body had been in the water for at least two weeks. The man was about 40 years old and five feet six inches tall.

There was hope of identifying the man from his clothing, and perhaps from his purse. But in the purse was $1.25 in change, and in his pocket was a gold Hampton watch and a knife. The man has not been identified to this day.

NO IDENTIFICATION —On April 10, 1918, the body of a lumberjack was removed from the Michigan hotel where he had died. He was about 55 years old. No one was able to identify him and there was no identifying papers in his clothing. The newspaper of that date was vitally concerned with this country's participation in World War I. There was no newspaper mention of the death and, so far as the records go, he is still unidentified.

SKELETON IN RAGS — On August 20, 1921, authorities were notified that the skeleton of a man had been found near Bark River.

The bones, partly covered with tattered rags of clothing, were lying in the grass and brush between the old highway and the river bank. The only possible identification might have been from a belt buckle and a cheap watch found near the bones, but these clues failed to assist authorities in their search to identify the unknown man. Another mystery was added to the list of unidentified dead now in unmarked graves in this area.

BODY IN THE RIVER —Two years later, on September 19, 1923, Sheriff Joseph Carney stood on the bank of the Ford River and shook his head. Another body. It was floating in the river about one-half mile south of the US-2-41 highway bridge.

This man was fully clothed, in ordinary clothing, and his body apparently had not been in the water more than a week, for it was not badly decomposed. He had been a big man, six feet tall and wide of frame.

The body was brought to Allo's in Escanaba and many inquiries were made in an effort to determine his identity. A man had been reported missing from around Northland about that time, but no one knew who the man was. There was nothing in his pockets to assist in identification. The dark curtain of the mysterious "identity unknown" had been drawn around the passing of another human life.

New York, (AP)—A dog goes around and around in a circle before lying down in a strange sleeping place.

At last I can understand why. He's just trying to make it familiar to him, smooth it down to the old comfort he knew before.

I have been having the same problem getting accustomed to a new apartment.

For seven-and-a-half years Frances and I had a small apartment in Greenwich Village. Some friends couldn't understand why we liked a place that lacked many modern conveniences, such as central heating. But it came to have the contour of home, and we found that the cheering warmth of two fireplaces—one burned cannel coal, the other used wood— more than made up for steam heat.

Well, the old landlord died and the new owner, a young veteran back from the Pacific, said he'd need our apartment. But he finally turned out to be the kind of landlord you want to write poems about. He said we could take our time about moving, and we did. It took us exactly a year of searching to find another place to live in. Manhattan is still that crowded.

The new apartment has a spare bedroom and a stall shower and a lot of other things we had never seen before except in advertisements. It was bright and clean with a wonderful kitchen and was the first modern apartment we had lived in since our marriage ten years ago.

But for days and weeks we missed the little inconveniences of our old home, like you miss the small faults and foibles of an absent friend. We missed the fireplaces, the old wide, dirt-catching floorboards, the friendly mailman who pushed our bell downstairs if he had anything important.

To make up for the lack of fireplaces our new apartment has a great wide window overlooking a patch of the East River, busy all day with foam-lined barges and tugs. And at night from one corner you can catch a glimpse of the needle-topped Chrysler building stabbing at heaven like a phosphorescent sword fish.

Yes, it has compensations. But one of the things that bothered us was that our two antique clocks which worked perfectly in the old place wouldn't function at all in the new apartment. No matter where or how we placed them, they would just tick dismally for a few moments—then stop dead.

"They don't like it here," worried Frances.

So They Say

I am against one cent or ounce of the wealth of the American people going to those countries whose every effort seems to be to tear down the position of America. —Sen. Chapman Revercomb (R) of West Virginia.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Pearson

Washington. — Senator Taft has decided to summon his joint committee on the economic report to Washington three days ahead of the special session to review America's No. 1 domestic problem—high prices.

Taft, who hadn't much time for other than politics this summer, will hear reports from congressional teams which probed the cost of living across the country. Most exhaustive study was done in the east by a subcommittee, under Vermont's conscientious Senator Ralph Flanders. His important findings have not been boiled down upon paper yet, but this column can reveal that he will stress the following:

1. More than anything else food prices are keeping the cost of living up. Normally one-third of the family budget goes for food, and this has been boosted from one-half to two-thirds.

2. Profiteering by food dealers is at a minimum despite record income. Wild speculation on the grain, hog and beef markets has done much more to push up prices.

3. Statistics do not give a true picture of wage earnings. The national average is high, but many special groups are low. Those suffering most are—teachers, Negroes, white-collar workers and others within state boundaries who do not get the benefit of federal laws and practices affecting interstate commerce.

Senator Flanders, though a Republican, frankly believes that drastic action will be necessary to curb the cost of living.

—SENATOR WHERRY'S SON—

One og the biggest economy clamorers in Congress is GOP Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska, sometimes known as the "merry mortician."

The gentleman from Pawnee City, Neb., is always talking about saving money and how much he has contributed to such saving.

However, Navy department experts estimate that it costs about $10,000 a year to put a boy through the Naval Academy. It is one of the most luxurious educations obtainable in the USA—free to the lucky boy who manages to get in.

Economy-minded Senator Wherry, however, didn't mind getting his son an appointment to Annapolis, and then, after the government had invested $20,000 in two years of his education, letting his son drop out.

Note — Some legislators propose requiring any West Point or Annapolis student to serve in the Army or Navy five years after graduation.

—WILL JOHN L. LEWIS WALK OUT?—

Labor insiders say it is only a matter of time until John L. Lewis takes another walk from the American Federation of Labor. That rough sitdown he got at the AFL San Francisco convention was too much for the big miner's pride.

As scrappy George Lynch of the AFL Pattern Makers Union expressed it:

"John L. never pays money into anything he can't boss. Not for long. He broke with the new deal when he found he could not control FDR with miners' funds.

"And unless I miss my guess," continued Lynch, "Lewis won't continue paying per-capita dues to the AFL after that licking he got in San Francisco."

Lewis is sore at practically everybody in top AFL councils, including his erstwhile crony, Bill Hutcheson, the carpenters' boss, who deserted him in the crucial battle over Lewis's stubborn refusal to sign a Communist "disclaimer" on behalf of his union.

The miners' boss went to San Francisco intending to demand a roll call on this issue, but changed his mind when he was unable to rally support from Hutcheson and others.

Lewis accuses Dan Tobin, astute president of the Teamsters' Union, of being the chief factor in his downfall. Real fact is, however, that all the leaders, big and little, were fed up with the mine boss's bulldozing, with the exception of Matt Burns of the Paper Workers and Philip Randolph of the Pullman Porters. They supported Lewis down the line.

Tobin's main effort against Lewis was on the question of whether the mine leader should remain on the AFL executive council. Tobin hit the ceiling when he heard that AFL President Bill Green had been trying to persuade Lewis not to quit.

"If he's sore and wants to quit, let him quit," Tobin angrily informed Grdeen. "I want harmony myself, but not if we have to crawl on our knees to get it. There will be no more of this catering to Lewis, if you want my support."

That ended that, and probably will mean that Lewis walks again.

—MERRY-GO-ROUND—

Conversation between two eminent Republicans regarding armed forces to Palestine: Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, "We can only act through the United Nations.". . Senator Brewster of Maine, "But we didn't do that in Greece.". . Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon got a chilly welcome from Republican businessmen in Portland this summer. . . "I am aware of the opposition against me," replied maverick Morse. "But it doesn't come from the factories and the streets. It comes from the office buildings. Let me give a little advice to those occupants. Between now and 1950, when I come up for re-election, they had better learn how to count noses.". . When acting Secretary of State Bob Lovett told President Truman he wanted to appoint Mark Ethridge, able Louisville Courier-Journal publisher, to be assistant secretary of state, Truman replied that Ethridge

GOOD PROGRESS ON AIRPORT JOB

Runway Extension Will Be Completed Here November 15

Work is progressing satisfactorily on the extension of the east-west runway at the Escanaba airport and the job will probably be completed on schedule about Nov. 15, City Manager A. V. Aronson reported this morning.

The application of clay on two side strips has been finished and work is now progressing on the sub-grade for the 100-foot center strip. Clay for the center strip has already been hauled and will be applied as soon as the sub-grade is completed.

A layer of gravel will be laid over the runway extension and worked into the clay to make a hard surface.

The east-west runway is being extended to a length of 3,000 feet after which Nationwide Airlines will open commercial air service between Escanaba and Detroit and between Escanaba and Houghton.

The north-south runway later will be extended to a length of 3,800 feet under a federal aid project to conform to CAB requirements.

Q. Since I was a child I have heard of the word Mandarin as applied to certain Chinese. Is the word Chinese?

A. The word "Mandarin" originates with the Latin word mandare, meaning "to command". The Portuguese in Europe called the governors and chief magistrates of provinces in China "mandarins". The Chinese called them ko-hans and divided them into civil and military ko-hans or mandarins.

Q. How long does a veteran have to wait before he is hospitalized?

A. If he has a service-connected disability, he does not have to wait. If he has a nonservice-connected ailment and is an emergency case, he is admitted immediately. If he has a nonservice-connected ailment which is not in need of immediate attention, he must wait until a bed is available. The time he will have to wait varies with the hospital. Some hospitals are more crowded than others, hence have longer waiting lists.

Q. Do any other cities besides New York and Chicago have buildings more than 500 feet high?

A. Cleveland has the Terminal Building, 708 feet high; Pittsburg, the Gulf Building, 584 feet high; Cincinnati, the Carew Tower, 574 feet high; Detroit, the Penobscot Building, 557 feet high; and Columbus, Ohio, the Citadel, 555 feet high.

PLANE CHUTES OFFER SAFETY

But Airlines Do Not Like To Admit Hazards

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—The old argument over whether the commercial airlines should parcel out parachutes to the customers has been revived again, since the latest rash of crashes. The recent United Airlines crackup, with 52 dead, is a special case in point.

Ruark

The airlines always had one stock answer to the parachute controversy. They felt that if you handed the passenger a chute harness with his trip-ticket, a deep skepticism about the safety of air travel would develop right then and there. He would feel that the plane is impermanent, at best, and shop around for railroad space in the future.

Good Sales Technique

It's sound selling technique, because I know of nobody who would continue to patronize a restaurant if they served up a stomach-pump with the soup. But in the airlines' current delicate condition, they may yet hit the point of making chutes optional at the passengers' request.

When that DC-6 came apart by easy stages the other day, finally busting-up just yards away from an emergency landing field, there seems to have been ample time to get most of the passengers out if they had parachutes available Maybe some would have been killed in the jump. But at least some would have been walking around today.

A breakdown of air accidents would show that an overwhelming majority occur on take-off, while landing, or from running into immovable objects, such as mountains. In these things, a parachute is obviously redundant. The same is true if a plane decides to explode at 15,000 feet.

But a lot of planes wouldn't run into mountains or bust up on landing until they had been cleared of personnel if the personnel had some method of getting off when the trouble first starts.

I am a guy who has prayed fervently over mountain ranges from New Guinea to New Hampshire—and I know that when you lose a motor over that craggy stuff you either get out right now or they pick you up in bits later on. And unless you have parachutes aboard the alternative is ridiculously simple. You fly off, strumming a small, golden harp.

Army Uses Parachutes

It is significant that the army overseas has revived the parachute. In Italy, the passengers are not allowed aboard until they have been briefed in the use of the chute, and the harness strapped on. You are permitted to take it off only when the ship has reached sufficient altitude to allow plenty of time to put it on again in case of trouble.

Sliding into an army chute rig takes less than 30 seconds if you have once learned how to wear it —less time, I should say, than it takes a stout lady to infiltrate a girdle. You snap three snaps—two on the legs an done across the chest, and you are ready to pick up the chute itself.

The silk rolls into a small bundle, about the size of a lady's handbag. You snap it onto the harness hooks in just one second, and you are then ripe for competition with the eagles. There is always a large door and at least two escape hatches on passenger aircraft, and you can get a mess of people out of that many exits in a hurry.

There is no hesitancy at all, on the airlines' part, about providing life-preservers on over-water flights. Many lines brief the passengers on how to get out, and how to wear the Mae Wests, in case a plane is forced down at sea. I see no reason why they should be so reitcent about treating the chute the same way . . . except for its bad effect on morale.

Classes In Dancing Begin Monday With Mrs. Berg Teaching

Lessons in both ballet and interpretative dancing, in anticipation of the figure skating season, will be offered beginning Monday by the City Recreation department. Classes will be taught by Virginia Berg, last year's instructor for the Ice Revue in Escanaba.

Though the classes will be for those who wish to prepare for the figure skating season and is presented in cooperation with the Escanaba Figure Skating club, they will also be open to anyone interested in ballet or interpretative dancing.

Anyone in the city interested should plan to attend the first class so that groups can be arranged.

The schedule of classes is as follows:

Monday, 3:30 to 5 p. m.—Webster school.

Tuesday, 3:30 to 5 p. m.—Franklin school.

Wednesday, 3:30 to 5 p. m.—Junior High school.

Thursday, 3:30 to 5 p. m.—Senior High school.

Thursday, 7-10 p. m. — Youth Center.

Friday, 3:30 to 5 — Jefferson school.

Saturday, 10 to 12 and 1:30 to 4—City Youth Center.

Virginia Berg, a resident of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., was for several years with the Ice Follies.

Church Women's Council Meeting On November 8

"World Community Day" will be celebrated by the Escanaba Council of Church Women on Saturday, November 8, with a dessert luncheon at the Bethany Lutheran church at 1:30 p. m. Speaker for the afternoon will be Miss Mary Ellen Alexander, former teacher in the high school here and now a graduate student at the University of Minnesota.

Miss Alexander has just returned from a summer in Europe with the Youth Hostel groups. She served as the leader for a group of ten American students who helped to rebuild youth hostels in several European countries. Her message will be of real interest to all church women.

The meeting on November 8 will mark the end of the first year of the Council. New officers will be elected at this time. Serving on the committee for nominations are Mrs. Fred Johnson, chairman, Mrs. Guy Knutson, and Mrs. A. V. Aronson.

Chairman for the dessert luncheon is Mrs. Carl Rehnquist. There will be an admission charge taken at the door. Cooperating churches in the council are Bethany Lutheran, First Presbyterian, Central Methodist, First Methodist, Evangelical Covenant, Episcopal, and Salvation Army. All women in these churches are urged to attend this meeting.

FESTIVE HALLOWEEN TABLE

If you're planning a gay Halloween party for the small fry, let your refreshment table set the party pace with cheerful informal decorations. These you can make yourself.

In the setting pictured above, black paper cats used for the decorative motif are easy to duplicate. To make a centerpiece of shaggy pussy cats, use three 15-inch strips of black crepe paper, five inches wide, each folded into eight thicknesses. Slash strips into coarse fringe and tie two of them with wires to fashion pompoms that form head and body. Third strip makes the tail. Face features are cut from colored paper and pasted on. Big bows of orange satin ribbon tie around their necks.

Cat silhouettes cut from stiff black paper make the candleholders, nut-cups and placecards. White chalk outlines gleaming teeth, snowy wiskers and eyebrows.

Orange crepe paper streamers form colorful borders for a white cloth. As a final festive touch, flatter your young guests by setting the table with your nicest silver, polished to gleam in the candlelight.

Halloween, Friday, School Carnival Night In Escanaba

Halloween, Friday, October 31, a night of gayety and fun, and a night on which witches on broomsticks, black cats and ghosts and goblins are abroad, will find the greater part of Escanaba, adults and children, alike, in school.

For Halloween, or Hallow Even as it was known in days long past, is carnival night. Escanaba Junior high school and every grade school, the Webster, Jefferson, Franklin, Washington and Barr will stage a carnival and at Escanaba senior high school, a masquerade dance with all the Halloween trimmings will be in progress.

Extensive preparations for the carnivals have been made by each school and its Parent-Teacher unit. There will be every imaginable kind of entertainment, booths, concessions, movies, games, fish ponds, spook rooms, beauty parlors, and many other specialties. Everyone will be in costume, boys and girls and their fathers and mothers. And in every school there will be awards for the prettiest, the funniest and most original outfits.

The school carnivals will begin at 7 o'clock, and it is important that pre-school children be accompanied by their parents. The senior high school party will begin at 8 o'clock.

Russians Wear Real Fur Coats

By TOM WHITNEY

Moscow—The North wind is chilly as it whistles through the Moscow streets, and the thoughts of Moscow women, like those of many women throughout the world, are turning more and more to fur coats.

The selection of fur coats on sale in Moscow shops is very wide and buying is heavy.

In Moscow and generally throughout Russia a fur coat is in no sense a luxury Unlike much of the United States, where from the point of view of warmth, a cloth coat is adequate during even the worst winter months, in the Soviet Union whole months of sub-zero temperatures make it necessary for any woman who wishes to go outside her own doors to have a very warm coat.

It is not surprising therefore that in the Soviet Union Russian women purchasing fur coats are inclined to put chief emphasis on quality and warmth of the pelts going into the coat and to be less inclined to emphasize style.

It is possible to buy here the best of furs, despite a recent published report that only artificial furs are sold in Moscow stores and that all the best Soviet furs are exported to America.

There are practically no "artificial" furs on sale in Moscow.

Although the USSR does sell to the United States large quantities of high-quality furs there do remain for the domestic market plenty of good pelts.

Russian women have several favorite furs. The most popular and frequently worn high quality fur is persian lamb or caracul. This comes in both black and gray. The black is more common but gray caracul (which is used for Soviet officers' winter caps) is scarcer and preferred by many women.

Mink And Marten

Mink and marten also are very popular (and of course, relatively expensive) furs for coats. Mink and marten here are always worn in their natural colors. There are no dyed or hybrid shades.

In general fur farming is only beginning here and most Soviet pelts are wild pelts.

The fur seal makes a highly popular and also very expensive coat worn by some Russian women.

In the inexpensive furs squirrel skin, mole and rabbit are probably the most worn.

Silver fox is popular for scarfs or capes but not used for coats. Sables, for which Russia is famous, are seen rather rarely. They are very expensive and a sable cape is a mark of considerable affluence here as elsewhere.

would not be confirmed by the Senate. . . Truman probably had in mind the fact that Ethridge would be opposed by Georgia's dour Senator George, who has never forgiven the Louisville publisher for opposing him when he was editor of the Macon, Ga., Telegraph. Despite this, most capital observers believe Truman is wrong.

—UNDER THE DOME—

With one or two exceptions, the congressmen who went to Europe to study conditions last summer have come back feeling just about the same toward helping Europe as when they left. Whether originally for it or against it, they were able to convince themselves that they were right. . . Although September is usually the month when cattle eat best, Rep. Bob Poage of Texas saw Norwegians feeding cows from huge rolls of wood cellulose. "If they're eating that paper now, can you imagine what they'll be eating in the winter?" Poage remarked. He was told that the cows that survive the winter in Norway will do it largely on dried fish. What their milk will taste like is another question. . . Rep. August Andresen of Minnesota spoke over a Norway-wide network in the Norwegian language when he visited that country last month. American - born himself, Andresen visited the village where his parents had lived in Norway before coming to America.

-BETTER EYES THAN TABER-

Back from a tour of Europe, tawny Montana Congressman Mike Mansfield called at the White House to report on conditions there.

"Unlike Mr. Taber," reported Mansfield, referring to the GOP congressman from New York, who claimed he saw no underfed people in Europe, "I saw plenty of underfed children. They are there by the millions for anyone with two good eyes to see, to wonder and worry about."

The word "commode" originally meant a tall headdress which had a fan-shaped frame covered by silk or lace.

Eino E. Kinnunen's Body Coming Home

Munising—The body of Pfc. Eino E. Kinnunen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar M. Kinnunen, Varnum street, is due to arrive in Munising this weekend from Chicago for burial in Maple Grove cemetery.

An Army escort will accompany the remains here by train. Arrangements for the funeral will be handled by a special committee of the Roderick Prato post of the American Legion.

The body will lie in state at the Beaulieu funeral home, and funeral services will be held there. The time will depend upon the date of the arrival of the body here.

Pfc. Kinnunen was killed in action during the Battle of the Bulge and was temporarily buried in Henri-Chapelle Army cemetery, Belgium.

Week of Prayer and Self-Denial Held

Munising—The week of prayer and self-denial, October 25-31, was observed at the First Methodist church sanctuary Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. The organist was Mrs. Verna Gatiss, and program chairman was Mrs. Horace Whitmore. The program topic was, "We Shared This Ministry".

Mrs. Earl Ness acted as leader and a psalm was read by Mrs. Glen Yeager.

Special topics were given on National College for Christian Workers, Kansas City, Mo., Hwa Nan college, Soochow, China, Scarraidd College for Christian Workers, Nashville, Tenn., and the Methodist Institute in Riberiria, Preto Brail, by Mrs. Ethel Hartung, Mrs. Oscar Oie, Mrs. Albert Chase and Mrs. A. L. Tinkham. These are the four schools Methodist women provide for training of Christian leaders.

Ushers were Mrs. Glen Yeager and Mrs. Nettie Floria.

A special offering was given by members and friends at this meeting to further the work of student's fund for rehabilitation of war-the wrecked campus in China and provide the young church in Brazil with Christian workers. The meeting was well attended.

had noted the commission had ordered Burke to investigate Munnell's activities, that Burke had done so, and that the commission was considering disciplinary action against Munnell when the governor's investigators moved in.

"I will tell you why I didn't let you handle this," Sigler said.

"Burke's answer to the charges against him admits he took a substantial amount of goods from the state. x x x Burke is the second in command of institutions having many thousands of inmates. He should be one to set an example for those inmates. Some are there for taking less property than he took. When I found out you had done nothing more than suspend him for a few days I decided to bring this out in the open and set a pattern for the future."

(Sigler referred to fact that in 1941 Burke was suspended by the commission for having certain articles made for himself in the prison shops. It was one of the charges against Burke in the present hearing.)

Sigler said there would continue to be prison investigations "so long as men like Munnell continue to conduct their affairs like he does."

No Record Of Sales

Munnell, he said, sold surplus cloth to Alfred S. Goldstein, a government war contract inspector, "Without a scratch of the pen" to record details of the transactions. It was "handled in a very bad manner," he said.

Addressing the silent Beaman, slumped in the witness chair, Sigler said "I am going to give you a chance because I am going to remove Munnell. I do not want your department to be under constant investigation. The prisons are not going to have the people's respect while you have men like Burke at their head. So I leave him to you."

Before Munnell's defense ended, Harold W. Lamb, vice-president of the Gunn Furniture company of Grand Rapids, took the stand at his own insistence to defend a war contract with the prison industries which had been attacked by the attorney general's staff.

Sigler said there had been no attempt to "cast aspersions" on the Gunn firm in the testimony.

Special Assistant Attorney General Thomas R. McAllister had charged the state made a $25,000 "gift" to the Gunn firm in an arrangement to compensate the firm for a loan used to pay overtime in making shell case parts. McAllister said after Lamb's statement of the facts "the testimony here confirms my statement," but Sigler said, "Well, I don't feel that way."

In 1940 more than a quarter of the people of the United States were either foreign born or the children of foreign born people.

1,130 New Recruits In National Guard

Lansing, Oct. 30 (AP)—A total of 1,130 new recruits have joined the Michigan National Guard since the beginning of the current recruiting campaign, the adjutant general's office announced today.

Spokesmen added the total marked the most rapid advance in guard strength over any comparable period in its history.

With 153 recruits added in the past week, the guard now totals 5,045 officers and men.

The recruiting campaign will end Nov. 16 when the champion individual recruiter and the unit recruiting the most men will be chosen on the basis of their records.

Pfc. Elisha W. Henry of Marquette is leading the individual contest, Staff Sgt. Joseph Kawiak of Detroit is second and Technical Sgt. Charles A. Thompson of Coldwater is third.

Marquette's headquarters and service company holds first place among the units, followed by companies in Coldwater and Escanaba.

Democrats Still Lack No. 2 Man On Their 1948 Lineup

Washington, Oct. 30—(AP)—The Democratic party as represented by its National committee gave evidence today that it has settled just about everything for its 1948 convention except who is to run for Vice President.

At a one-day meeting yesterday, the committee unanimously picked Philadelphia for next summer's nominating conclave and elected in 43 year old Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island a new national chairman who favors non-partisan action on emergency legislation at the November 17 special session of Congress.

Americans Arrest 17-Year-Old Son Of Hitler's Top Boss

Vienna, Oct. 30 (AP) — Martin Bormann, jr., 17-year-old son of Adolf Hitler's long-missing right-hand man, was arrested Monday by American troops near Salzburg. He had been living and working there as a farmhand since May, 1945.

Headquarters of U. S. forces in Austria, which announced the arrest, said he was being interrogated as to the whereabouts of his father, who has been missing since the last days of the battle for Berlin and who is under sentence of death for war crimes.

JAPS PROMOTE HEALTH

Tokyo, Oct. 30 (AP)—Japan will have a "train," too—a "health train."

The Empress of Japan and ranking Japanese government and Allied officials will be present Nov. 1 when the train starts its tour of the islands. The train will make hundreds of stops while medical, dietary and public welfare specialists aboard give lectures on health and food matters.

BRITISH LABOR REGIME CLOSE TO A DEFEAT

sational economic disaster in all history. I hope to God when it comes they will not start throwing their atomic bombs about the world."

Cries of "shame" and "withdraw" greeted this statement and Silverman retorted:

"Well, it would be a great shame. But if there comes again 15,000,000 unemployed in the United States, I hope at any rate that this country is not going to be dragged at the heels of it and I hope it will be able to insulate itself from it."

He said he would withdraw part of his description of the United States as a nation of "shabby money lenders," for which Churchill criticized him yesterday.

"At least," Silverman, said, they are not shabby. They are the only people in the world today who can afford to buy good English broadcloth."

Quick Justice Case Retrial Shifts To Bay County Court

Adrian, Mich., Oct. 30 (AP) — Rene De Meerleer's retrial on an old murder count has been transferred from Lenawee circuit court, scene of the original "quick justice" hearing, to Bay County circuit court.

The change in venue was announced yesterday by Circuit Judge Charles O. Arch, who presided here more than a week while attorney's tried unsuccessfully to select a jury for the second trial of the 33-year-old De Meerleer.

The new hearing was scheduled for Dec. 9 before Judge Karl L. Leibrand of Bay City.

Judge Arch, called from Hillsdale to preside here after Judge C. Arthur Rathbun stepped aside at the request of the defense, granted the change in venue Tuesday after five separate motions to that effect has been entered by De Meerleer's attorney, Joseph Louisell.

The defense counsel held that a fair trial could not be assured in Adrian, where his client was arraigned and sentenced to life imprisonment after pleading guilty 15 years ago to a holdup slaying.

De Meerleer became the original example of quick justice when the U. S. supreme court decided that his hearing was too speedy to insure justice.

Jaycee's to Attend Marquette Confab

Dr. Roy B. Johnson, President of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced today that representatives of the JCC will attend the U. P. leadership training conference in Marquette, Saturday and Sunday.

Two national representatives of the JCC, Phil Stump, executive secretary of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce; Paul Bagwell, national vice president, seven state officers, three state committee chairmen, and two past state officers will lead the conference.

Instructions will be given in public speaking and parliamentary procedures; and discussions will be held on committee activities and the duties and responsibilities of local officers.

Several official representatives will attend for Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce. Any other JCC members and their wives are invited to attend. Those who plan to go to the conference are requested to contact Don Guindon by Friday for reservations.

Kingsford Woman Commits Suicide

Iron Mountain, Mich.—Mrs. Alma Barribeau, 45, of Kingsford, died at 6:30 Tuesday night in General hospital, where she was taken Monday after she drank a quantity of household ammonia while despondent over ill health.

Mrs. Barribeau was found ill by Americo Corsi who lives at the Barribeau residence, when he returned home from work Monday afternoon. Dr. Charles Steinke was called and Mrs. Barribeau was moved to the hospital, where she died.

Conscious when taken to the hospital, Mrs. Barribeau, a resident of Kingsford for the last 25 years, admitted drinking the ammonia.

Born Feb. 15, 1902, in Hermansville, Mrs. Barribeau leaves a son, Norman of Kingsford; her mother, Mrs. Lucas Savard; six sisters, Mrs. George Whitens and Mrs. Sebastian Carollo, of Hermansville; Mrs. Jennie Morlock, of Faithorn; Mrs. Bertha Leneau, of Oconto, Wis.; Mrs. Chester Bellmore, of Milwaukee, and Mrs. George Helgren of Channing, and three brothers, John and Fred Savard, of Hermansville, and William Savard of Faithorn.

Veterans Hospital Bids to Be Asked

Iron Mountain, Mich.—Bids for the construction of the veterans hospital in Iron Mountain will be advertised "sometime between the 5th and 12th of November, and will be opened approximately 45 days later," Col. J. O. Colonna, of the Army's Corps of Engineers, at Milwaukee, said in a letter to F. A. Flodin, president of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford chamber of commerce.

Movie Carpenters Continue 13-Month Hollywood Strike

Hollywood, Oct. 30 (AP)—Carpenters Union Local 946, a major factor in the 13-month film strike and one of the last units still holding out, voted last night to continue its walkout until contracts have been signed with film producers, Business Agent James Skelton announced.

Six other unions have voted to allow their members to seek work in the studios again. The International Association of Machinists Union, independent, is scheduled to vote tonight on the back-to-work question.

The strike involved a jurisdictional dispute over some 350 set erection jobs. The unions in the conference of studio unions walked out in support of their demands for rights to these jobs. The International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes also claimed these jobs and its members did not strike. Both groups are AFL affiliates.

At the time of the American Revolution, the American Merchant Marine numbered around 2,400 ocean-going ships with an aggregate of 400,000 gross tons—more than half as much as Great Britain's.

Co-ed At Madison Ousted for Having Date With Negro

Madison, Wis., Oct. 30 (AP)—The owners of a private rooming house for co-eds at the University of Wisconsin have evicted two girl students, one for having dated a negro student.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Rupe, in a statement yesterday, said they had asked Iris Alexander, a student from New York City, to leave after she returned to their rooming house from an inter-racial party at the University Memorial Union with an unidentified negro student.

The second co-ed evicted, the Rupes said, was Constance Felton, a senior from Brooklyn "for sympathizing with Miss Alexander and indignantly telling Mrs. Rupe off regarding the matter."

"The other girls would not stay here if Miss Alexander and Miss Felton continued their interest in negroes," the Rupes said. " x x x there is no religious prejudice concerned. But a private home is no place for inter-mixing.

Miss Alexander, who is chairman of the social relations committee of the university student board, said she had placed the matter before the board.

Sun Hidden Over Most of Country; Heat Near Normal

By The Associated Press

The sun was in hiding over most sections of the country today as temperatures leveled off to near normal.

Cloudy weather was reported from several areas and rain fell in scattered sections in the last 24 hours. Light rain fell in some parts of Maine where forest fires have spread destruction in the last two weeks. There also were light falls in the Great Lakes region, in the upper Ohio valley, in the northern Rockies and in Washington and Oregon.

The mercury dropped to near normal in Maine and was expected to fall to near normal in parts of the east where daytime temperatures have been in the 70's and 80's for the last several days.

Car And Truck Damaged In Crash On Highway US 2

A truck, driven by Leo McNamara and a car driven by Jules Gilpatrick, of Sheboygan, Wis., figured in an accident on Highway U. S. 2 about 5½ miles east of Manistique Tuesday afternoon. Both the truck and the car suffered considerable damage and Robert Gilpatrick, 11, who was with his father at the time, suffered cuts and bruises about the head and was treated at the Shaw hospital.

Both vehicles were heading east with the truck ahead and when McNamara slowed down to turn on to a side road, the oncoming car crashed into him.

Gilpatrick was issued a summons for not having his car under proper control.

Social

Bucky's Party

Bucky Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Jones, entertained a group of friends at his home on South Fourth street on Tuesday afternoon, the occasion being his fifth birthday anniversary. Games were played after which a tasty lunch was served. Table decorations were in the Halloween motif with a white birthday cake as the centerpiece. Each guest received a favor. Bucky was the recipient of many nice gifts. His guests were: Terry Linderoth, Tommy McKenzie, Karl Blomquist, Ronny Bosonic, Marylyn Selling, Linda Wickwire, Louise Berger, Nancy Matthews, and Gary Jones.

Must Notarize Fox Bounty Application

Lansing—In the first two weeks of operation, the new state fox bounty cost the conservation department $6,235 for 1,247 foxes. The rate at which applications for the $5 bounty are being filed still is on the rise, the department reports.

An opinion from the attorney general confirms the necessity of notarizing every bounty application, and rules that when a township clerk is also a trapper his application for bounty must be made to the deputy township clerk.

Junior High Is Sponsoring Big Halloween Party

The Junior High school is sponsoring a Halloween party on October 31, from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. in the Junior High school study hall. Mr. Karwoski and Mrs. Plichta are the faculty sponsors and will be in charge of the party.

Games will be played during the first half of the party, after which refreshments will be served. At the close of the party the students will swing and sway to tunes from their record player. Invitations have been given to all Junior high students.

The affair will be a "Harvest Costume Party" and all students are reminded to come dressed accordingly. Committees in charge of the party are: Lunch, Karen Jewett, Roberta Nelson, Elizabeth Nylander; games, Pete Peterson, Dick McKenzie, Howard Strasler, Marlene Anderson, Betty Swanson; dancing, Marlene Smith, Mary Ann Olesack, Bruce MacLean; clean up, Bill Tufnell, Bill Morden, Jim Nelson, and Robert Nelson.

All of the faculty and parents of Junior high students are extended an invitation to attend.

Blaney Homemaker's Club Making Gifts

A meeting of the Blaney Park Homemaker's Club was held recently at the home of Mrs. L. A. Applegate.

The lesson for the evening was "The Christmas Workshop." Each member responded to the roll call by displaying some article which she had made, or which had been given to her as a gift, for the purpose of giving suggestions for making ideal Christmas gifts. Many practical ideas were exchanged by the several members. Instructions for the making of slip-on bedroom silppers and also toy animals for children out of old felt hats were given by the club leader, Mrs. Shirk. This lesson was very interesting in that it showed how old material could be pressed and used for making both attractive and serviceable toys for children.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Florence Duquette on Thursday evening, November 6.

COACH PONTO PRAISES TEAM

Says New Confidence Has Put Emeralds On The Map

Nothing succeeds like success, Coach Hilton Ponto intimated in a talk before the Manistique Lions Club Tuesday evening. The Manistique High school football team, he told the club, was a woefully discouraged group of boys at the outset of the season. The team had lost so many games that the players did not have the courage to win. Steady and painstaking coaching gradually built up the players' morale and the 6 to 0 win over Sault Ste. Marie was the incentive that turned the tide. It was an altogether different team that wound up the season, said Ponto.

Coach Ponto said that he found the Manistique boys willing to learn. He found them clean-cut active boys who observed code and training rules to the letter.

In his closing remarks he stated that it was a joy to work with Manistique boys.

The club also voted to take action in assisting any children afflicted with seriously defective vision to receive treatment.

The club voted to appropriate an additional $500 toward the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital fund. This will make the second donation of that size that has been paid to this cause by the Lion's club in the past year.

The club discussed at length the desirability of securing adequate training quarters for boys who are training under Lions club supervision.

Mrs. Nick Mincoff has left for Wakefield where she will visit relatives for a few days.

Americans borrow some 500 million books a year from libraries.

H.S. Auditorium To Have Improved Lighting System

A new lighting system is being installed in the Manistique high school auditorium and, according to Harvey Quick who is putting in the improvement, it will be ready for use by the first of the month.

The lights are flush reflectors with removable rings and concentric louvers, and will, when fully turned on flood the auditorium with six to seven times more light than is afforded at present.

This is an improvement which is generally recognized as badly needed as the light under the present system barely meets requirements for student use.

Spooks, Goblins And Witches Will Parade Friday

Goblins, witches, owls and all sorts of strangely and wildle bedecked are going to parade on Deer street next Friday evening between Lincoln school and the bridge. The parade will start at seven o'clock sharp.

Folks should not be frightened, however, because these spookers and ghosters aren't really anything like that at all. They are grade school pupils of Lincoln school out to fulfill that time honored rite of dressing up for Halloween. The parade will be led by the Manistique high school band.

After the parade the children will return to their school rooms where treats will be given them. The party is under the sponsorship of the Lincoln-Riverside PTA.

Hospital Fund Is Aided By Apples

A couple of weeks ago A. L. Byers of Hiawatha caused a notice to be placed in these columns to the effect that anyone wishing to secure apples could come to his place and take all they wished. No charge would be made for the apples, but those who wished could donate to the hospital fund.

The sum of $9.50 was raised for this purpose made possible by the following donors: Mrs. Roy Stewart, Joseph C. New, Mrs. Alice Neville, Oscar Peterson, S. P. Reid, Mrs. N. Farley, Mrs. F. Hinkson, Simon Shampine and one donor who refused to be identified. The money has been turned over to Maurice Carlson, committee chairman.

Trojans Invade Stephenson Tomorrow; Gladstone Here Saturday

St. Joe Hopes To End '47 Season With Win

Surprised no end by Coach Bob Villemure's unpredictable Munising Mustangs who had to pick Saturday Oct. 25, to play their best game of the season, the St. Joseph's parochial school Trojans of Escanaba will trek to Stephenson tomorrow afternoon in hopes of winding up the 1947 season with a victory. The opening kickoff is slated for 2:30, Escanaba time.

Rated about on a par with the Munstangs for the '47 renewal of the "little brown jug" series, the Trojans found themselves a bit too keyed up here last, Saturday, and to top it off, they ran into a Munising team that was hot. Playing like they did in tying Gladstone, 13-13, the Mustangs ran up a 33-0 score on the Trojans.

Stung by this deefat, the Trojans aim to take it out on Stephenson. Originally slated for Saturday afternon, the game was moved ahead to Friday afternoon to serve a twofold purpose: It will permit more Stephenson high school students to see the game inasmuch as no bus service is provided Saturday to bring them in from the farms, and it will enable St. Joe players and all Escanaba grid fans to see both the St. Joe-Steve game Friday and the Escanaba-Gladstone clash Saturday.

Eight St. Joe Seniors

Eight seniors will be playing their last game for St. Joe, Coaches Clarence Needham and Fritz Farrell announced yesterday. As is customary, they will all start the game. Seniors who will make their final appearance in St. Joe uniform are Bill Courneene and Kevill Murphy, ends; Leo Schaut, tackle; Fred McGuigan, guard; Ozzie Viau, quarterback; Bob Ramspeck and Gerald Tanguay, halfbacks, and Harold Marenger, fullback.

Marenger and McGuigan have won four football letters, and Ramspeck is a three-letter man. Other St. Joe starters tomorrow will be John Rademacher, tackle; Forrest List, guard, and Ray Menard, center.

Marenger, who played a bangup game last Saturday, was "banged up" as a result of his hard play and has been taking it easy in workouts this week. He'll be ready to go against Stephenson, however.

Steves Pointing

The entire St. Joe squad—28 strong—will make the jaunt to Stephenson. Players will make the trip by private automobile, leaving Escanaba at about 11:45 tomorrow morning.

The Trojans are looking for their second victory of the season. They dented the win column with a sparking 40-14 triumph over Crystal Falls here two weeks ago after holding the strong Norway eleven to a 27-6 victory the week before.

Stephenson is still without a victory after six games. It has scored 16 points this season and has had 142 points scored against it. St. Joe's record is 54 points against 159 for the oposition.

"It will be a close game—no doubt about it," Coach Needham said yesterday. "We can't afford to underrate Stephenson. They always point for us, and they'll be playing their hearts out to win this one. We've got to play a little harder."

Giants Could Play Rockets

BY HUGH FULLERTON, R.

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—Adm. Jonas (the Needle) Ingram has challenged the National Football league on behalf of the first and second-place teams in the All-America conference without results. Now why not have the Rockets challenge the Giants to settle which is the worst team. At least it would give one of them a chance to win . . . The conference, incidentally, is plugging three kicking specialists, Lou (the toe) Groza, Joe (little toe) Vetrano and Ben (toeless) Agajanian . . . Would you say they're trying to get a toe-hold on pro football . . . The city of Miami is taking over the old Miami Biltmore Golf course, which has stood idle since Pratt General hospital was closed in July. The announcement said playing fees will be about $2.50 daily for winter visitors and "within reason" for year-round residents.

Dizzy Dean (in a recent isterview): "What baseball needs now is more talented fools and fewer untalented businessmen players."

Gibby Welch, the old Pitt star, is cooking up a 20-year reunion of the Panthers who played against Stanford in the 1928 Rose Bowl game, Jan. 2. . . . Tub-Thumper Bill Miller, who accompanied Harold Dade to Manila for his recent fight with Speedy Cabanella, reports that Dade is beginning to jabber Spanish like Chalky Wright—"Well, maybe not as fluently," he adds . . . Bill also says Promoter Jess Cortes is planning to take the Icecapades show to the Philippines early next year . . . Esref Aydin, the "Tireless Turk" who came to Lincoln, Neb., for the A. A. Rossides Made 285 Yards in Army Tilt

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—Chucking Charlie Conerly of Mississippi continues to be the nation's football workhorse, but out in New York's Morningside Heights section they'll nominate Columbia University's Gene Rossides.

National Colleague Athletic Bureau figures today showed Conerly leading the nation for the second straight week in total offense and forward passing, and providing 59 percent of Mississippi's offense.

But the bureau also had an acknowledging nod for Rossides whose pitching last Saturday punctured Army's long string of 32 games without defeat.

Rossides figured in 43 plays for 285 yards against Army, the highest yardage total registered by a single gridder in a single game in the last two years.

Illini Cooking Up Pass Plays for U-M

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Big Nine champion fighting Illini, back on their heels after losing to Purdue last week, are cooking up a new set of pass plays to use against undefeated Michigan in their chips-down homecoming game at Champaign next Saturday.

The passing strategy, Coach Ray Eliot Hopes will at least loosen up the Wolverine line defense for the Illinois backs even if it doesn't produce or set up any touchdown plays.

The game, with the 1947 conference title and a probable Rose Bowl trip at stake for Michigan, is the outstanding Big Nine attraction of the week and almost certain to attract a sellout crowd of 71,119 fans.

Last season, after losing to Indiana, Illinois came on to defeat favored Michigan and Ohio State teams and win the Big Nine championship and later the Rose Bowl title.

In other Western Conference games, Wisconsin will invade Northwestern for its first conference engagement in three weks, Purdue will entertain Iowa, and Indiana and Ohio State will battle for last place in the league standings on the Buckeyes' field.

Minnesota entertains Pittsburgh in a non-conference game.

George Can't Do It Any More For Spartan Eleven

East Lansing, Oct. 30 (AP)—Michigan State football coaches are conducting a search for a punter this week now that they can't say "Let George Do It" in the absence of Guerre, all-around backfield man from Flint.

Guerre, now sidelined with a broken leg, was the mainstay for the Spartans in the punt department besides sparking their defense. In the first five games Guerre punted 26 times for a total of 948 yards, averaging better than 36 yards a kick.

John L. (Red) Gilman, principal understudy for Guerre in the punting chores, punted 11 times for a 284 yard total, averaging only a little better than 25 yards a kick. Guerre was missed almost as much for his educated toe as for his downfield footwork in the last half of the Kentucky game as an even break on the punt exchanges could have helped put the Spartans in scoring position.

Basketball will enter the sports picture with an unprecedented rush this season. Hardly will the echo of the Escanaba-Gladstone game have subsided before King Basketball will move in to occupy your attention, along with bowling and hockey, until the final tournament is played next April.

Responsible for this unprecedented rush is the fact that Escanaba will be represented this season in the top league of the Upper Peninsula, the Northern Wisconsin-Michigan cage circuit, and is slated to play its opening game here next week against Crystal Falls.

The schedule is arranged on a week-by-week basis to enable team managers to make their own arrangements with school authorities for use of gyms. Arranging an independent schedule to avoid conflict with high school basketball is a difficult proposition.

Next week's game, which will be Escanaba's inaugural in fast company—the fastest in the U. P.—will be played in the Escanaba junior high school gym Thursday night.

Arne B. Johnson and August L. Menghini, both of Norway, are president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the NWM cage league.

OFF THE CUFF: The Upper Peninsula high school football team is in the process of being selected . . . Backfield aces most prominently mentioned by Monday morning quarterbacks are Mike Shatusky and Jack McCormick, of Menominee's undisputed U. P. championship team; Frank Kopenski, Iron River dynamo, who closed his career in spectacular fashion by placekicking a 38-yard field goal in the last 18 seconds of play to beat Iron Mountain, 3-0, and Paul Gingrass, Mountaineer sparkplug.

If Marinette succeeds in scoring on Menominee in their traditional clash on Armistice day, it will be only the third team this season to do so . . . The Maroons, who won more friends and influenced more people with every appearance, have had only two touchdowns scored against them all season, one by Oshkosh Sept. 12 and one by Iron Mountain Oct. 11.

Houghton's Gremlins very nearly ran their point total for the season to 300 in their last game, a 38-0 triumph over Ontonagon last Saturday . . . That's the Copper Country pony express coming in late again . . . We didn't have that score yesterday . . . The 38-point spree pushed Houghton's tally to 290 points . . . Houghton has won seven and lost one to march Iron River's record behind undefeated Menominee and Gladstone.

Bruce Smith, Packer halfback, injured a shoulder in the Lion game last Sunday and will be out of action for the Pitt game next Sunday . . . He'll return in time to meet the Bears in Chicago Nov. 9, however . . . U. P. grid fans who have seen Smith in action are amazed at his long strides . . . He's the closest thing to a scared deer we've seen this season . . . The Packers will need him against the Bears, who have begun to click . . . Gaining 486 yards last Sunday, the Bears are now leading the league in total yards gained.

Chandler Will Explain Suspension Of Chisox And Manager O'Connor

Cincinnati, Oct. 30 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler's office promised a "statement of facts" today following suspension of the Chicago White Sox and General Manager Leslie O'Connor yesterday in a case pivoting on an alleged violation of the National Pastime's High School Rule.

O'Connor and the American League Club were suspended, Chandler's secretary, Walter Mulbry said, after the general manager refused to remit a $500 fine levied in the signing of 17-year-old George Zoeterman, a Chicago Christian high school pitcher who won't finish his studies at the Lutheran Institution until January.

Himself a strict enforcer of baseball law during 24 years as aide to the late Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, Chandler's predecessor, O'Connor so far has said only that he was suspended from baseball, and doesn't want to talk until he issues a statement later.

Will Fight Edict

Mulbry said last night that both O'Connor and the club would be reinstated immediately if the fine was paid, but the White Sox boss indicated he would fight the Chandler edict. The ball club's executive office released a statement, however, terming the suspension an illegal act and an attempt "to coerce the club and Mr. O'Connor in the submission to his (Chandler's) illegal acts."

Signing of Zoeterman, a promising southpaw who hurled in batting practice for the White Sox and made the club's last eastern swing of the 1947 season, was the second time, said the commissioner's office, that the Chicago organization had been fined by Chandler. Last March, his office reported, the White Sox were fined $500 for a similar complaint involving one George Murphy, a high school student.

As originally drafted by a major league committee of which O'Connor was a member, the high school rule applied only to schools holding membership in the National Federation of High School Associations.

Baseball sources claimed the rule never was amended but Mulbry said that after its adoption two bulletins were sent to club owners advising them Chandler would interpret the rule as applying "to all high school students."

Violated Own Rules

The suspension, he explained, bars both the club and O'Connor from participating in any of baseball's "transactions and activities," including the Major League player draft Nov. 10.

Mulbry said he "assumed" the team couldn't play ball if the fine were not paid by the start of next season and added, without elaboration, "but the commissioner would take more definite action."

In its statement last night, the White Sox executive said "Chicago Christian high school is not a member of the association. (Officials of the school verified this and reported it is accredited by the state as a private school.)

"The commissioner in voiding our contract with this player and in fining the club violated his own rules of procedure, the baseball rule under which he purports to act and various other provisions of the major and major-minor league agreements and rules and also the law of the land."

Expect Record Crowd For Esky-Brave Clash

When Coach George Ruwitch's Escanaba high school Eskymos and Coach Eldon Keil's Gladstone Braves square off on the high school athletic field here Saturday afternoon, a record crowd of more than 4,000 fans is expected to be on hand to witness the 1947 renewal of a football series that began in 1899.

Tickets for this tradition-packed clash have been selling faster this week than for any pervious home game. Nearly 4,000 fans were on hand to see the Menominee-Escanaba game a month ago, for which the gate was $1,428.35, a new record.

Based on the demand for tickets being made in Gladstone and Escanaba, there is little doubt that this mark will be exceeded. In view of the unprecedented demand, arrangements have been made to provide bleachers on the east side of the field, opposite the stadium.

"These will be used to seat Escanaba high school students," Edward Edick, school principal, said yesterday. "By using these bleachers, we will be able to accommodate more parents, friends and other adult football fans in the stadium. The bleachers seat approximately 1,000."

Three mid-sections in the stadium have been set aside for the advance sale of reserved seat tickets, which are available in Escanaba at the senior and junior high schools and Gust Asp's and in Gladstone at Dehlin's drug store. The seating capacity at the field Saturday afternoon will be about 4,500, and it is anticipatad that every seat will be taken.

As far as Gladstone fans are concerned, interest in this year's meeting in the long series is spurred on by the prospect of a Gladstone victory. The Braves have played 21 games through three seasons of football without a defeat and are primed for the Eskymo clash.

Braves Hopes Up

Undefeated and untied last season, they were generally accepted as the 1946 Upper Peninsula mythical champion. Unbeaten this year but tied once by Munising, the Braves have a record second only to the powerful Menominee Maroons, who swept aside all opposition, including the best that could be provided in Class B competition.

The Eskymos' hot-and-cold performances constitute another factor in Gladstone's hopes for a triumph. A Class B team, the Eskymos have a wide edge in the series, but this year, the Braves, a Class C team, have high hopes of winning.

Both teams have been practicing hard this week in an effort to reach peak form by Saturday. Escanaba will be without the services of Ted Gardner, who has appendicitis and is hospitalized. Dave Walch, ace tackle, and Warren Gustafson, line plunger and line backer-upper suffered twisted ankles in the tough go with Marinette last Saturday night but are expected to see action.

Captain Dave LeGault sustained injuries in the Stephenson game last week, but the Gladstone leader is expected to respond to treatment and be ready to display his usual speed and deception Saturday.

Ryder Tuneups Find British Doing Well But Yankees Better

Portland, Ore., Oct 30 (AP)—The Americans have looked the hottest in practice rounds, but what will happen when the Ryder Cup golf matches open here Saturday?

Well, the non-playing strategist and manager of the British team, Commander R. S. Roe, confides that the British will manage to sneak home with the victory.

"The wet course will not bother them. It's really in fine shape, you know. They are very good competitors and have the enthusiasm and will to win," he said.

To point up his statements were the scores turned in yesterday by three of his players—a 69 for Charley Ward on the par 35-37—72 Portland Golf club course; a 70 for Reg Horne and a 71 for Dai Rees.

These were more than matched, however, by four of the Yanks—E. J. "Dutch" Harrison coming in with a 66, Herman Keiser and Ed "Porky" Oliver getting 68's and Byron Nelson a 69.

And the Yanks' mastermind, Walter Hagen, team co-captain who won't hit a shot but was brought along for the strategical touches he can add, pooh-poohs talk of a British win.

Use of Back Judge Rings Bell in Pro Football League

Philadelphia, Oct. 30 (AP)—Penalties in National Football League games have not increased since the circuit installed a fifth official, known as the back judge, Commissioner Bert Bell said today.

But the commissioner is going to wait until all reports are in at the end of the season before deciding whether the arbiter will be retained next year as part of the league's officiating staff.

"But even though five officials haven't seen any more infractions of the rules than four did in other years, I feel that there is place for the man we call the back judge," he added. "But I am going to wait until I have a complete report before making a final decision."

Bell pointed out that the fifth official definitely takes a load off the other officials in that they don't have so much ground to cover.

"By using the back judge, the other officials are in position to see better what goes on directly in their own territory," declared the commissioner. "I believe our games have been run smoother with the addition of the extra arbiter."

BOXER DIES IN RING

Pasadena, Calif., Oct. 30 (AP)—James M. Wilander, 27, San Diego sailor, died in the ring at the Pasadena Arena last night after collapsing in his bout on an amateur boxing program. Wilander slumped to the floor in the fourth and final round of his bout with Robert W. Harris, 20, of Los Angeles. Dr. W. F. Lynn said there was no outward sign of injury. He said a heart attack may have caused death.

Progress Reported In Two Peninsula Pollution Controls

Lansing, (AP)—The state Steam Control Commission reported progress in four cases of water polution.

Following were the advances reported:

Petoskey was ordered to submit plans for additional sewage treatment by next March 1 and to have construction completed by May 1, 1949. Alternative affluent restrictions were imposed for different sewage outlets.

Iron River committed itself to providing treatment by July of 1952.

Vassar Committed itself to provide treatment by 1951.

The Superior Sugar Refining company of Menominee was granted until Oct. 1, 1948, to complete waste disposal controls.

PTOMAINE HITS UCLA

Los Angles, Oct. 30 (AP)—Worries increased the UCLA grid chieftains today on the heels of ptomaine poisoning which hit the outfit late yesterday. Four players, notably first string tackle Bill Chambers, were stricken and the student manager, Russ Torey, was confined in a hospital after a severe attack.

HOPPE STILL LEADS

Former Michigan Star Gives Score Board to Menominee

Menominee, Oct. 30—An electric football scoreboard has been donated to Menominee high school by Fred S. Norcross, jr., of Menominee, an all-time Michigan gridiron great and former captain of one of Fielding H. Yost's famous Michigan teams at the turn of the century. The scoreboard is being erected at Walton Blesch Field.

Norcross is the father of Bob "Boomer" Norcross, Maroon center last year, who is now in the Merchant Marine. The elder Norcross was captain of the 1905 Michigan team which scored 495 points to two for the opposition in winning 12 and losing one—that to Chicago by 2-0.

A mining engineer, Norcross is vice-president of Freeport, Sulphur company, a subsidiary of Cuban Mining company of Cristo Oriente, Cuba. He resides in Havana.

MSC Sharpening Up Pass Attack

East Lansing, Oct. 30 (AP) — Michigan State will have to depend more on a pass and a prayer in Saturday's football game with Marquette due to the benching of George Guerre, leading Spartan ground-gainer.

Head coach Biggie Munn and his aides have devoted a good part of their practice time this week to sharpening the Spartan passing attack. With Guerre gone they figure they will have to depend more on the aerial route for the needed yardage.

Only four of the 14 forward passes attempted were completed against Kentucky last week for a gain of 53 yards. These figures were distinctly disappointing to the Spartan mentors compared to the 217 yards gained rushing.

Both Lynn Chandnois and Jim Blenkhorn have been used as chuckers as have Gene Glick and Don Waldron who alternate in quarterback position. Steve Sieradzki, used only as a line plunger last year, also is being coached as an MSC passer for the first time this season and is due to start at Guerre's left half position.

One of every five Frenchmen is a farmer.

Maybe Boss Rickey And Durocher Just Talk About Weather

Brooklyn, Oct. 30 (AP)—What does the self-styled "father and son" team of Branch Rickey and Leo Durocher talk about during those mystery confabs in the Dodgers' offices these days?

The big question in baseball circles is, of course, whether Durocher will be back to manage the Dodgers next year, now that his suspension for the 1947 season has been terminated officially by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

"They discussed a matter personal to Leo and having nothing to do with baseball," Harold Parrott, secretary of the Brooklyn Baseball club, announced after an hour-long session yesterday.

The only safe assumption for the public to make concerning the topic of discussion, therefore, is that the president of the Dodgers and his former manager just talked about the sporting goods business—a new enterprise Leo is entering in Beverly Hills.

Horn Sees Bigtime Auto Race Circuit Like U. S. Pro Golf

Arlington, Tex., Oct. 30 (AP) — Ted Horn, the national champion automobile driver sees a big-time racing circuit next year comparing favorably with professional golf—both in number of events and money that can be won.

Here to defend his title in the last race of the year in the American Automobile association sponsored series, Horn, the Paterson, N. J., flyer, commented on the boom that has come to the driving game and said he expected twice as many events next year.

There have been eight thus far this season — Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Langhorne (Philadelphia), Lakewood, Ohio, Bainbridge (Cleveland), Goshen, N. Y., Milwaukee again and Springfield, Ill. The ninth will be run Sunday at Arlington Downs, bringing big-time racing to Texas for its first showing.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. John Nadeau, who passed away Oct. 30, 1937.

Two loving hands are resting,
The voice we loved is still,
Dear Mother who worked so hard for us,
Is waiting on God's beautiful hill.
God gave us strength to face it,
Courage to bear the blow,
What it meant to lose dear Mother,
No one will ever know.

Sadly missed by her

NOTICE OF ABANDONMENT

The adoption of the following resolution was moved by Commissioner Norstrom and was supported by Commissioner Wylie.

WHEREAS, George Larson and Emil L. Moser, both being residents of Wells Township, have petitioned this Board to abandon as a county road that portion of County Road No. C-7 described as follows: Beginning at the section corner common to sections 4, 5, 8 and 9, Township 39 North, Range 23 West and running south on the section line ¼ mile to the end of the road, and

WHEREAS, said petitioners own all the land adjacent to that portion of the road which it is proposed to abandon as well as the land south of the south end of the road, and

WHEREAS, there are no houses located on or near the proposed abandonment, and

WHEREAS, there is no further public need for the portion of the road which it is proposed to abandon.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that that portion of County Road No. C-7 beginning at the section corner common to sections 4, 5, 8 and 9, Township 39 North, Range 23 West and running south ¼ mile on the Section line is hereby abandoned as a county road, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT a certified copy of this resolution be furnished the Wells Township Board and notice of this action be advertised in a newspaper published in this county.

I hereby certify the foregoing is a true and correct copy of a resolution adopted by The Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Delta at a regular meeting held Oct. 25, 1947, at the County Warehouse, Escanaba, Michigan.

J. T. SHARPENSTEEN,
Deputy County Clerk.

P. T. A. Meeting

Ensign, Mich.—The Ensign P. T. A. held its regular meeting Thursday evening, Oct. 23, at the Alton school. Among other things, it was decided to continue the same rate per child for hot lunch during November as they paid in October. Also, it was requested that all parents see that each child brings their own milk to school, which is a required part of the hot lunch program. A motion was also made that each family donate a towel for the school kitchens. After the business meeting games were played and a nice lunch served by the Alton ladies.

Home Ec. Meet

Members of the Home Economics Extension Group met Monday evening at the Stone Anderson school to continue their Christmas workshop meeting under the leadership of Mrs. Henry Lundberg and Mrs. Everette Johnston. Patterns and materials for aprons, slippers and toys were discussed and worked on, after which lunch was served. The next meeting will be on "glove-making"; definite date to be set later.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Plunkett and children of Pullman, Mich., visited last weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everette Johnston.

John Constantino left Thursday for Milwaukee after a visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Constantino, and other relatives and friends.

Harold F. Gustafson left Sunday for Ann Arbor, and Hillsdale, where he will attend the State Grange meeting, returning home Friday or Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Buku of Ann Arbor are expected to arrive the latter part of this week to make their home in Ensign. Mrs. Buku is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Gustafson.

Typhus Epidemic Feared In Greece

Athens—(AP)—Public health officials of the American Mission for Aid to Greece express concern about the possibility of a typhus epidemic developing this winter and next spring among refugees in northern Greece.

Dr. Oswald F. Hedley of Richmond, Va., chief of AMAG public health division, says "there are 150,000 homeless in the Salonika area, and epidemics are threatening. Many of the refugees who fled their homes during guerrilla battles are civilian casualties and need hospitalization and medical care."
